- Click View other sections on the left and the sections will populate in the grid

- Click on the section in the grid to add that section to the your plan (Or you can use the boxes on the left)

(Note that these examples are for Fall as Spring courses are not available in our current test environment – the courses that show as registered would not be in the grid at the beginning of the Spring Plan.)

Registration

When your registration window is open you can use the Register Now button for all courses or you can register one course at a time using the buttons on the left.

The screenshot shows a registration interface titled "Plan your Degree and Schedule your courses". It features a search bar at the top right and a "Register now" button highlighted with a red circle. Below the search bar are tabs for "Schedule", "Timeline", and "Advising". The main area displays a grid for "Spring 2016" with columns for days of the week (Sun-Sat) and rows for time slots (8am-9pm). Courses are represented by colored blocks: yellow for planned, green for registered, and orange for waitlisted. On the left, a list of course details is shown, with "Register" buttons circled in red for each course.

If a course is full, you will have the opportunity to waitlist. (The button on the left will change to and you can click the button to waitlist.) Once you are registered for a class the button will change to and green and the box on the left will say Registered instead of Planned. (It will look like your current fall schedule in the grid.)
