

Interactive Bulletin for Ursinus College Innovators

Startup Roundtable

Join Aron Starosta and Eamon Gallagher for a roundtable discussion where you can get immediate, actionable feedback on your start up idea, your pitch, or your presentation. Attendees also have the opportunity to share feedback with the presenters.

October 29 @ 5:30 pm - 6:30 pm

From turntables to Tactile: How Marc Coleman designed a career in entrepreneurship

The Tactile Group founder's professional journey started with music and taught him hard lessons about the importance of diversity in business. Here's how he's grown his agency along the day, with some support from local institutions.

LIVE@LIFT: Smart, Sustainable Environments

To improve work and life for residents, businesses and visitors in mixed-use spaces, Comcast is seeking startups and new technologies that improve efficiency, operations, visibility, sustainability, connectivity, analytics and occupant experience. Through the new LIFTOff Challenges, Comcast NBCUniversal partners with enterprise-ready startups to test new products, technologies and processes that solve business challenges and meet customer needs.

Hear How an Entrepreneur Grew His Company to Be the Largest Independent Podcast Publisher

Jason Nazar will host a lively conversation with Wondery founder/CEO Hernan Lopez. They will discuss the greatest management lessons Lopez learned, from his nearly 20-year tenure at Fox International Channels to Wondery and its majority ownership by women, LGBT, and people of color. Other topics include: How to determine if you should be an entrepreneur, the pursuit of one specific idea in business, how to build a media brand with incredible IP, and how to cultivate great workplace culture.

ClimateTech Startups Are Leading the Creation of a Global Circular Economy

A growing number of companies are migrating away from the linear model and adopting 'circular' approaches to how they operate. Many companies are developing processes for creating products with less material while recovering and repurposing these resources to extract their maximum value.

Startup Story & Legal Advice with CEO of Blue Recruit

Entre & Fourscore Business Law are bringing a startup story with CEO of Blue Recruit, Rich Camacho to talk about founding his startup and blending in legal content. While helping many of America's top companies, Rich recognized that the recruiting industry largely ignores the need of blue-collar workers and employers desperate for their talent. Rich knew our nation's great workers and companies needed a solution to our nation's growing talent drought, and this inspired him to lead the team at BlueRecruit.

U-IMAGINE CENTER

✉ UIMAGINE@URSINUS.EDU ☎ 610-409-3050 📍 488 E MAIN ST COLLEGEVILLE, PA 19426